The Paul Revere Saga: Chapter 13

(This is the thirteenth in a series of articles dealing with the problems that have plagued the Paul Revere Condominiums off Grafton Street since the project first came before the Millbury Planning Board in 1983.)

By Andree A. Belisle

MILLBURY - On MAY 6, 1987, the SEWER COMMISSIONERS wrote to Edgar McDonald, president of the Condominium Association, relative to the transfer of land on Grafton Street to the Town for the proposed pump station site. (This issue was first brought up by the commissioners on October 11, 1983.) The Commissioners at that time were: George Buron, Richard Prue, and Leo Bachant.

The commissioners asked for a release of this property from the terms and conditions of the condominium trust so that the Town could take clear title of this property.

On MAY 7, 1987, Town Planner Christopher Nelson wrote to the fire chief: "In follow up discussions concerning my letter of April 29, 1987 to Mr. William Forrest relating to the status of the water storage facility at the Paul Revere Village complex, Mr. Forrest has indicated that the requested repairs will be completed by May 15, 1987. The Planning Board would request a final inspection by the Fire Department of the water storage facility and related features on or about May 15, 1987."

On MAY 7, 1987, the BOARD OF HEALTH received a letter from Mary Katherine Mansfield, representing the Paul Revere Village Association. The letter read as follows:

"As you know, we are experiencing tremendous seepage problems on Lexington Street and Meetinghouse Lane in Paul Revere Village.

"It is our understanding that Forrow Builders cannot begin clean-up and repair work until the lawn area has dried from the heavy rains we have been experiencing this season. We would greatly appreciate it if one of your agents would keep in contact with either William Forrest or Philip Rawinski of Forrow Builders to assure that our sewerage system will be repaired as soon as possible."

At the MAY 11, 1987 BOARD OF HEALTH meeting, it was noted that the board had received numerous complaints concerning sewage problems at Paul Revere.

"Mr. Forrest informed Mr. Caron that, because of the heavy rains, he has been unable to put heavy equipment on the property to make repairs. The board was informed that work began today on repairs. Mr. Caron will check on the repairs tomorrow."

At the JUNE 8, 1987, BOARD OF HEALTH meeting, it was stated that Ed McDonald (president of the Paul Revere Association) informed the board that, according to regulations issued by the town for this project, the septic systems must be pumped twice a year.

(Again, according to condition #13 of the special permit, the condominium association was only required to inspect the systems annually.)

McDonald asked the board how they would like to be notified when the pumping had been done. "The association plans to have it done on a rotating basis, with 2 systems being done each month. They will paint the water pump on each building in order to identify each unit for the company doing the pumping."

McDonald stated "that they have been experiencing problems with some of the systems. Forrow Builders repaired one of the systems, he thinks, by blocking off one of the trenches, thereby leaving them with on(ly) 2/3 of the system working. They only dug at the distribution box and put dirt over where it was leaking."

Caron asked if there was still a problem with the system leaking, and McDonald said there was. "The system on the banking that was leaking is still wet. There is still sewage coming out of the ground. It was coming out of the banking and now it looks like it is coming out of one of the trenches. They are concerned that the problem has not been corrected and that they will have severe problems next spring. He further stated that there is a natural spring that comes out of the ground where the septic problem is. They (Forrow Bldg.) ran a pipe from the spring to Lexington Street and around the back."

Piscitelli asked Caron and Weldon to investigate and report their findings. He also asked McDonald to contact the office to set up a notification program when the systems are emptied out.

On JUNE 22, 1987, Chief Nault reported on the final inspection of the water storage facility. "The water level at that time (June 22, 1987) was approximately 12" deep. Apparently the facility is leaking," Nault wrote, "as the water level was within 6" of the top only several weeks ago.

"In conclusion, the water storage facility is an unreliable water source for fire fighting purposes, and it does not meet the conditions for which it was constructed for."

Another Point of View

George, Some of Your Lights Have Gone Out!

By Lawrence Moore

Our Federal Administration is walking a tight-rope. The President, in passing, on the golf course or in his fishing boat, says, "all is well. I'm feeling great. Don't Worry - Be Happy." Fortunately for him, Bush's balance bar seems to be keeping him from falling. Those of you who've tried it, however, know that it doesn't take much to lose your balance and go "boom." Now, if the President was alone on the tight-rope, only he could fall. Like it or not, each one of us in on that tight-rope with him.

That tight-rope stretches to prosperity, economic security and growth for our country and its people. Be a Pollyanna if you wish, but to me the success of the walk is in doubt. Many Americans agree.

The recent Wall Street Journal/NBC News Poll of the President's economic policy showed 48% disapproval. The poll find 57% of the people believing the recession won't end until next year. Only 37% think the economy will improve in 1992, 23% think it will get worse. People think we are at the bottom of the recession, and have not started up. Only 44% of those polled think the country is headed in the right direction.

Why do people feel as they do?

People feel their standard of living is slipping. Local taxes increase, services decline, and unemployment increases. Statistically, per capita disposable income has been falling since the first quarter of 1990. Hourly pay since 1986 has fallen about 5% and the net worth of consumers has reached the lowest level since 1987.

States and communities are hoping for a change (that will not come) in the people's attitude toward new taxes. The public payroll and local governments are suffering from the buildup of the last 20 years, a buildup we can no longer afford.

Regional Federal Reserve Banks search and report signs they exaggerate into trends, but Boston Reserve says orders and sales are still below last year, and most manufacturers say the upturn is not in sight.

Long overdue drastic cutbacks of military installations threaten 60,000 jobs. If they had been closed in the 80's, when the talk started, the impact would have had lesser emotional impact.

The S & L bailout now needs another 75 to 80 billion dollars over the next year. That brings the total cost up to about $160,000,000,000, not counting interest on the borrowing. Now on top of that William Seidman, who also heads the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp (the FDIC that's insuring your bank deposits up to $100,000) estimates the bank insurance fund will show an $11,000,000,000 deficit by the end of 1992.

Second homes, shore property, and vacation homes are being given up all over the country. A ski lodge in Vermont bought for $140,000 five years ago sold for $100,000; and lucky he was. In Hampton Bays, New York, an owner put a condo on the market in March. Her latest ad reads "best offer accepted."

The automobile Big 3, under siege by imports, since August 1988 have been "working together" on technical research, until now unobstructed by Federal busy bodies concerned about "restraint of trade" and "price fixing."

According to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the medical cost of AIDS in 1991 will be $5.8 billion and will likely rise in 1994 to over $10 billion.

Another Wall Street Journal/NBC News Poll shows 55% of the people feel health care is too expensive, and 51% feel the Federal Government should fix it. But, the American Medical Association prepares to fight a proposed revision in Medicare payments to doctors.

Trash and rubbish problems grow by leaps and mounds. Solutions seem elusive, but ingenuity and willingness make Riverview Michigan, a city of 13,000, love the dump business. Begun as a small landfill in 1967, their gigantic hill now sports a ski-slope and a golf course. Fees lower local taxes. The town is so happy with it they plan to expand the height from 105 feet to 200 feet, and from 141 acres to 290 acres. Being home to "Mt Trashmore" doesn't seem to bother the tax-happy citizens.

The United States is the leading debtor in the world. Japan's industrial onslaught and their economic incursions around the world continue. In the largest real estate transaction since Berlin became the capital of unified Germany, Japan bought a large piece of land at Patsdamer Platz, the busiest square in pre-war Europe.

Because of our banking problems and Europe's resurgence, many economists predict a capital shortage in the U.S. in the 1990's.

Except for his stand on the capital gains tax, Bush sheds no light on our major problem: Economic Viability.

It takes money to educate, and it takes money to employ the educated. It takes research to create new jobs. And long-term research just doesn't happen within today's non-incentive tax schedule. According to a story in the Wall Street Journal, in 1988 an engineer at AT&T was ordered to stop research on a project because it was "too far out." He disobeyed, continued, and developed a technology that gives AT&T the lead in the fiber optic transmission business. Japan and England are not far behind. Where would we be if the engineer had obeyed corporate orders?

At Allied-Signal, a new CEO has replaced Ed Hennessy, Jr., whose stock was hit by Wall Street because of low profit. Hennessy bought expensive research to shore up Allied's future. The new CEO is expected to eliminate or trim long term research and development projects to boost profits. The future? He'll be gone by then!

The following item is from the Wall Street Journal:

"WASHINGTON - Four influential Democratic senators are starting a campaign to have the U.S. set up regional centers that would help companies bring high-technology products to market more quickly. The lawmakers expect to introduce a program today that would require the White House science office to devise a five-year plan to improve the U.S. competitive position in each of 22 technologies and increase research funding for those technologies. The plan also would finance regional centers to help small and medium-sized companies develop and manufacture high-tech products.

The Senators are Sam Nunn of Georgia; Ernest Hollings of South Carolina; Albert Gore of Tennessee; and Jeff Bingaman of New Mexico. The plan, contained in two bills, would authorize the U.S. to more than double its spending on advanced manufacturing technology and other "critical technologies" to $1.07 billion in the fiscal year beginning October 1. While it is highly unlikely Congress would approve such a boost, the lawmakers in the past have been able to push through programs adding substantial new funds for commercial technologies."

In his latest DLC release, Rep. Dick Moore (D-Uxbridge) quotes Dave McCurdy (D-Oklahoma) presenting the "New American Choice Resolution." "Economic Incentives" are tucked in among education reform, tax fairness, jobs, health care and public safety. Bush is just as blind, chiding Congress about neglecting his proposals on civil rights, education, public housing, banking and transportation.

If we do not provide the incentive for Research and Development, if we do not realize that finding ways to spend money is dependent on finding ways to make money, we will continue on the downward slope of the hill of prosperity.

Paul Tsongas said it right: "If the Democrats can come up with a candidate who can talk economic security and economic rejuvenation, you have a chance."

In a radio address, President Bush said, "Let's stop seeking excuses and find opportunities to serve, to help one another, to become sources of wealth and points of light." He said "dollars don't make visions, deeds do." That's bull, pap and nonsense.

How do we get to the deeds? WE NEED A PLAN!

First: Bush, or the DLC, or the Democrats or the Republicans have to realize the primacy of our economic problem.

Second: We have to analyze why we have the problem, determine its components and their relative severity.

Third: We have to lay out a concrete 5 to 10 year plan to solve the problem, area by area, and in logical priority.

Fourth: We have to sell the people on the inevitability of doom if we don't take action to stem the tide.

Fifth: We have to spell out the hardships and the sacrifices that may be necessary to accomplish the objective - noting that if we do nothing identical hardship and sacrifices will have to be made ... only to get worse.

Sixth: If we do it right, the spirit of the people, of their children, of natives and transplants, of colors and races will rise - because they see personal opportunity.

And the lights, instead of going out, will come on all over the land.

Moore Aide Chosen to Attend Institute

BOSTON - Sean P. Canty of Webster, administrative assistant to Representative Richard T. Moore (D-Uxbridge) has been selected to attend the prestigious Legislative Staff Management Institute. He is one of only 30 senior legislative staffers from throughout the country chosen for the program, sponsored by the National Conference of State Legislatures and the Hubert H. Humphrey Institute of Government of the University of Minnesota.

The program will run July 7-19 in Minneapolis. No tax dollars will be used to pay for the seminar or Canty's expenses. He will attend on a scholarship for the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and the John C. Stennis Center for Public Service.

The purpose of the Institute is to help senior level staff managers with a commitment to the legislative process develop their abilities in dispute resolution and conflict management, management of the legislative process, leadership, use of policy analysis, strategic planning and use of information systems.

Moore said the Institute represents one of the most exciting and potentially rewarding endeavors available to legislative staff. "I am very proud that Sean Canty was elected to participate from among many other bright, talented staffers from across the Nation," Moore said. "It will afford him the opportunity to further refine skills so necessary and important to today's legislative environment so that my office can better serve the people of the district that I represent."

Beacon Hill Roll Call

This week's "Beacon Hill Roll Call" records the votes of Senator Matt Amorello (R-Grafton) and Representatives Richard Moore (D-Uxbridge) and Paul Kollios (D-Millbury) on four roll calls from the week of July 2-5.

FISCAL 1991 BUDGET (H 5800) - House 121-31, Senate 32-3, accepted the House-Senate conference committee version of a $12.99 billion fiscal 1992 state budget. The package includes a $328 million local aid cut; a $420 million Medicaid cut; and cuts in many other accounts and programs including general relief and higher education. Supporters said the package is a fiscally responsible one which makes painful but necessary cuts, requires no new taxes and will produce a balanced budget. Some opponents said the cuts go too far and will hurt cities and towns and thousands of the needy, elderly and children. Others said the package is still loaded with waste and unnecessary items. Amorello voted against the budget; Moore and Kollios voted for it.

BONDS (H 5646) - House 147-0, Senate 25-0 (five senators voted against the bill but their votes were "paired": and not counted in the final total) gave final approval to a bill setting the terms for bonds authorized by the recently passed transportation development and improvement package. Supporters said the bill includes fiscally responsible terms for this urgent borrowing. Opponents offered no arguments. Amorello, Moore and Kollios voted for the bill.

HORSE RACING (H 5810) - House 153-0, Senate 32-2, gave final approval to the bill allowing 200 thoroughbred racing days at Suffolk Downs racetrack and 125 harness and 75 thoroughbred racing days at Foxboro Raceway. Supporters said the bill will create thousands of new jobs which combined with concession contracts, taxes and purses will pump millions of dollars into the state's economy. Opponents said racing has never been run properly in this state and some argued the bill is the first step toward other legalized gambling including casinos. Amorello, Moore and Kollios voted for it.

BOSTON SCHOOLS (H 5436) - Senate 15-10 (no House roll call) gave final approval and sent to the Governor the bill replacing the 13 member elected Boston School Committee with an appointed board. Bill supporters said an elected committee has hurt education in Boston and argued an appointed committee will be free from politics and manipulation. Opponents said an appointed committee is simply a power grab by Mayor Flynn and argued it will rob minority residents of a voice in running the board. Amorello voted against the bill.

EDUCATION (H 5809) - House 147-7 (no Senate roll call) gave near final approval to the higher education reorganization bill which creates a Cabinet level education secretary. The 65 page measure also merges the University of Lowell and Southeastern Massachusetts University with the three Universities of Massachusetts to create one university with five campuses. Supporters said this is the beginning of higher education reform and will make the state's system a world class one. Opponents offered no arguments. Moore and Kollios voted for the bill.

Amorello Derides Late Night Session

BOSTON - Senator Matthew Amorello (R-Grafton) criticized the Legislature for "ramming through" a Fiscal Year 1992 budget that he said its members did not have time to review.

"In my view," he said, "it is unconscionable that after months of agonizing over the difficult fiscal choices facing Massachusetts, we in the Legislature are supposed to vote on the budget sight-unseen."

The first-term lawmaker gave his maiden speech from the Senate floor during this weekend's late-night session, urging his colleagues not to enact the $13 billion spending plan before giving it thorough study.

"I represent 160,000," Amorello said, "I owe it to them not to vote, at one o'clock on Sunday morning, on a budget that I received just two hours ago. The question is not whether this is a good budget or a bad budget, but that we in the Senate have not had the time to weigh its merits."

He added, "I was elected last year in part because the voters of my district did not want to see us debate key legislation in the wee hours of the morning. And yet here we are." Amorello then voted against a motion to allow the post-midnight budget session.

Craft Program at Library

MILLBURY - The Millbury Public Library, 128 Elm Street, continues its Safari theme with its African masks and shell necklaces craft program on July 25 at 10:30 a.m. Children ages six to nine will learn how to make African masks at the same time children ages nine and up will make exotic shell necklaces. Registration starts on July 22. To register, call 865-1181.

Again, on SEPTEMBER 5, 1987, Nault wrote to the Town Planner concerning the water storage facility:

"Please be aware that at our training exercise of August 17, 1987, the water level at the water storage facility was approximately 7" deep. It is apparent that this facility is leaking water.

"A discussion with Mr. Ed MacDonald of the Tenant's Association indicates that the Association has not accepted this storage tank from Mr. Forrest, the developer."

On SEPTEMBER 14, 1987, Gary Swenson, chairman of the PLANNING BOARD, wrote to Forrest as follows:

"Attached please find a letter from Thomas Nault, Millbury Fire Chief concerning the continuing inadequacy of the Paul Revere Village water storage facility.

"The Planning Board is requesting that you submit a schedule of proposed repairs for the correction of this matter. The Board is requesting that you do so no later than October 21, 1987. Failure to comply with this request within the deadline provided will necessitate action by the Board to correct this matter through a seizure of funds currently retained by the Millbury Savings Bank for this purpose."

On SEPTEMBER 29, 1987, the SEWER COMMISSIONERS again wrote to McDonald: "Would you please advise what the status is relative to the transfer of a parcel of land on Grafton Street to the Town for a proposed pump station site? We understand that the necessary vote of the members to do this was going to take place at the annual meeting during this month, and we would like to know if this has been done."

On NOVEMBER 13, 1987, the SEWER COMMISSIONERS wrote to Janet Grenier of Associated Real Estate, "Since the parcel of land for a proposed pumping station site on grafton Street...was transferred from Forrow Builders Inc. to Paul Revere Village Association before the Town had it transferred from Forrow Builders Inc., Sewer Commissioners are now considering taking this parcel by eminent domain. This would eliminate obtaining releases from each property owner of the Paul Revere Village Association."

The Commissioners asked Grenier to complete an appraisal on this parcel.

On APRIL 25, 1988, the BOARD OF HEALTH wrote to Michael Bryant, Treasurer of the Paul Revere Village Association, as follows:

"An inspection by our office has found sewage running over onto the surrounding property from units 7-10 and/or units 11-14, Lexington Road. We also found the rear area of these units littered with trash and papers. These are violations of the state Sanitary Code...and must be corrected within fifteen (15) days."

On APRIL 27, 1988, Bryant replied, "In response to your recent letter concerning the trash and sewage problems, this is the first the Board of Directors have heard of these problems and will address them promptly.

"The association is currently in the process of replacing the Board of Directors. The previous Board of Directors has resigned due to personal reasons and a new Board of Directors will be elected on May 12, 1988. Until that time, several of the previous Directors are running the Association on an interim basis. Therefore, we do not believe we will be able to rectify the aforementioned problems within the 15 day period. We would appreciate an extension to this deadline.

"We appreciate the Board of health notifying us of these problems and we will make very effort to rectify them. We apologize for any inconvenience these problems may have caused our surrounding neighbors."

At the MAY 9, 1988, BOARD OF HEALTH meeting, the board voted unanimously to grant an extension period to the condo association to correct violations relating to sewage and trash until the association board reorganizes.

On SEPTEMBER 22, 1988, the SEWER COMMISSIONERS again wrote to Edgar McDonald, asking for a meeting with Association members to discuss the transfer. "It's imperative that the Town obtain this property for a future pump station, which would eventually service the lower part of Grafton Street including Paul Revere Village. Sewer Commissioners are willing to met with you and the Association to explain this at any place and time which is convenient to you."

On OCTOBER 6, 1988, the Association replied to the sewer commissioners, and invited them to attend the next association meeting on November 9 to discuss the transfer of land.

On NOVEMBER 16, 1988, the SEWER COMMISSIONERS received the following letter from Attorney Cove, Town Counsel:

"In accordance with your request, I have reviewed my previous file on this matter. In April 1987, I advised the Board that the Paul Revere Village property is now a condominium and that in order to release the 29,000 square feet of land from the provisions from the Condominium Trust, it is necessary to acquire at least 75% of the unit owners' deeds to this property. This means that the Abstract Company will have to certify the present owners of the condominium and property and that the Town accept deeds from each of the condominium units owners releasing their interest in that parcel. Partial releases will also have to be obtained from the mortgage holders. I have requested Worcester County Abstract to continue their examination on this property and advise me of the record owners.

"The other way that the Town can obtain the title to this property," the letter continued, "is to make a taking by eminent domain. The special town meeting of 1985 has authorized the Board to take this property by eminent domain. In view of the fact that there may be 20 or 30 owners involved, the likelihood of a contest on eminent domain damages is increased if the Town takes it by eminent domain."

Also on NOVEMBER 16, 1988, the SEWER COMMISSIONERS wrote to the condo association following their joint meeting on November 9. They advised the association of the information provided by Attorney Cove.

On NOVEMBER 23, 1988 Attorney Cove again wrote to the SEWER COMMISSIONERS: "It appears that a taking or acceptance of deeds from unit members of the Forrow Builders Condominium on Grafton Street will entail approximately 105 deeds and mortgage agreements. This is similar to doing the title work and legal work for a new sewer system.

"Would you consider locating the pumping station at another location," Cove asked, "somewhere in the immediate vicinity, where there may be less title complications and less legal complications. To my knowledge, Forrow Builders owns adjacent property which they might be willing to give to the Town for purposes of the pumping station."

On November 30, 1988, the SEWER COMMISSIONERS requested a copy of the bylaws and master deed of the condo association.

On DECEMBER 12, 1988, the SEWER COMMISSIONERS submitted the bylaw to Attorney Cove.

Here & There Bits 'N Pieces

. . . by Joe Morin

Hi, Gang! Back again, don't seem ever to run out of things to bring up for you good people! There is always something to write about, talk about, believe you me! Take for instance the gathering of the clan! When they want something built in a hurry, they know how to do it! We speak of the Jehovah Witnesses in their building a Meeting House in no time flat! They sent the call out, the brethren assembled, behold! A meeting House built in three days! You try that with a "private contractor!" Teamwork, helping one another out, that's what it's all about!

Governor! If you want something built quick, well ,and want to get your money's worth, you know who to call!

Always tell your problems to people who don't like you. They're the only ones who want to hear them!

BERNIE SIEGEL, M.D. had this comment recently: "I've done research, and I hate to tell you, but everybody dies - lovers, joggers, vegetarians and nonsmokers. I'm telling you this so that some of you who jog at 5 a.m. and eat vegetables should occasionally sleep late and have an ice cream cone." I'll drink to that!

WANTED - ALIVE....Mugshots of those fathers of young'uns who fail to come across with child support payments are being posted all over the countryside.

Some states have started posting photos of those errant fathers. C'mon daddies! The taxpayers are picking up the bills you're responsible for. T'ain't fair, at all....

Attending a wedding for the fist time, a little girl whispered to her mother, "Why is the bride dressed in white? "Because white is the color of happiness," her mom replied. "And today is the happiest day of her life."

The child thought about this for a moment, "So why is the groom wearing black?" she asked.

***

SKUNK OF THE MONTH...has got to go to that Bozo Punk who allegedly committed that terrible attack on that paraplegic recently in Worcester.The firing squad would be too good for the likes of this sick individual. I suppose they would bring up the fact of his "socio economic" background as a reason, or excuse for this sickening act. We knew the victim; we helped him cross Front Street many a time! It makes one sick to his stomach to read about what happened! To come back and repeat the atrocity to prove to your "buddies" that you knifed someone? How sickening! How satanic! Lord, have mercy on the victim, and the perpetrator.

THINKING out loud! Passed by a water station, you know, all that bottled water advertised for sale in the markets! Just doesn't seem right, to me, in this day and age to have to go out and "purchase" drinking water for household use. And when you think about it, maybe it's "because" of this day and age it's necessary to go out and "buy" water. Who's fault is it that our tap water isn't that "pure?" And yet who is to say that the water we "buy in jugs is pure? Is it a ripoff? Some government agencies seem to suggest that it could be. Beware!

LET'S TALK TURKEY! Are our priorities a little mixed up? $5 million expended for a parade in New York? No money available for teachers, firemen, police, but $5 million is found for a parade. No ticker tape on hand so they spend $1 million to shred toilet paper. Unbelievable. Parade, or is it "good ol' fashioned politicking?" Better that all that dough was invested in a "Veterans Benefits" program. Only in America! That Fourth of July shindig in Washington is rated to be the "Mother of all parades." Aren't we overdoing it, a little? Just my opinion.

EXTRA DOUGH! Just thought of a way Millbury or Worcester police can increase their Treasure Chests. Yupp! Just park a cruiser at the Rte. 20/Massasoit Road intersection between 6 a.m. and 7 a.m. and again between 5 and 6 p.m. and "ketch and stop" all those bozos running the red light at that dastardly cross road! Go get 'em, guys!

BRINGING IN THE SHEEP! In Orwell, Vt., it costs money to keep the historical cemeteries free of weeds and crabgrass, $2,000 to $3,000 per annum, at least! Enter Yankee frugality: "Let's bring in the sheep!" But, boy what an outcry from the local gentry. Both plots are steeply sloped, easy for sheep, but not for lawnmowers! Sheep are still munchin'; some people are fuming! It's all in the hands of the selectmen.

UNUSUAL IDEA....there's a church in Shrewsbury which holds a monthly service in which a baby crib or bathinette holds a special meaning. Yupp! Once a month parishioners attending this special service bring a special baby item to be distributed to a needy mother to be for her new baby to be. Beautiful gesture on their part. WHO WAS that woman? We speak of the gal hurrying and a scurrying across Main and Front Streets in Wooster. Tapping and corralling people, passing out leaflets. Can that gal move! Found out she was in the employ of the Lord, passing out Bible tracts. She's got a lot of "vim and vigor." Bless you, dear.

O.K. YOU GUYS! Kiss and make up! No more religious rivalry. Enough is enough. Russian Orthodox protesters blocked the leader of the Ukrainian Catholic Church from saying Mass recently at a church in Kiev. They prevented 76-year-old Cardinal Lubachivsky from entering St. Andrew's. "This is an Orthodox city! We want nothing to do with your Pope and your cardinal!" some people chanted. There's still a lot of animosity between the Ukrainian Catholics and Russian Orthodox church members ever since Gorbachev more or less turned the churches over to the "faithful" and let them "fight it out" on who occupies which church. C'mon now fellas and gals, you're supposed to be Christians; love one another, isn't that what it's all about? Now, knock it off!

BR-R-R-R-! COLD STORAGE! They're still talking about it! Cryonics, the art (?) of freezing a body at the time of legal death with intentions to thaw and revive it in the future when perhaps a cure for the disease or ailment that killed you is found! Good grief! Some guy had his mother put in a deep freeze along with his wife. The founder of the Quick Freeze program doesn't promise a quick thawing and a new life, but he says, what the hey! Ya never know. One candidate says that "it's not that I want to come back, it's that I don't want to die." Sorry buddy, whether you like it or not, you is going, along with the rest and the best of us! Frozen, thawed, scrambled, whatever.

NO ROOM IN THE INN - Pres Bush is telling the Israelis not to build new settlements on the West Bank; it's only delaying possible peace talks on the Middle East. Yet he helps Israel in transporting thousands of Ethiopians in an airlift back to Israel! Where are all these poor souls going to live? Next stop, America! Or else Israel annexes Jordan.

PROBLEM SCANNER - Do these things only happen to me? Hope not! I consider myself a careful shopper, look at prices, quality of merchandise, etc. etc. Market shopping ya just gotta look at the price shown on the package. Checking out from a Massasoit Road market, I noticed the scanner was adding 10 to 20 cents more per item! Whoa! said I to the scanner gal! Pointed out to her the price on the package to the price shown on the register. Enough of this baloney! These scanners should be checked out now and then by qualified personnel to make sure the unsuspecting shopper isn't going to be ripped off every time he or she makes a purchase.

Friends, ya gotta be on your toes out there, they'll walk all over them! Imagine the profit, or "extra" income taken in by the markets with all these scanner "errors?"

HEADACHES! Now they're saying that people who take too many aspirins are susceptible to more headaches! Ya believe that? You take an aspirin for a headache, and you're apt to keep that headache longer than you would if you hadn't taken an aspirin. Now you figure that one out! I give up. THOUGHT I'd throw this in: "A good thing to remember and

On JANUARY 19, 1989, Attorney Cove advised the SEWER COMMISSIONERS by letter that he reviewed the by-laws and the master deed with Worcester County Abstract Company. "The by-laws and master deed referred to granting certain easements. This power in the trustees is insufficient to grant the fee interest in the real estate to the Town of Millbury for a pumping station. The Town must own the real estate outright. The entire area of the Paul Revere Village was submitted to the provisions of Chapter 183A (the condominium statute) and there must be a vote and release from at least 75% of the unit owners in the condominium to release this property from the provisions of the condominium statute.

"I will speak with the counsel for Forrow Builders to determine whether they anticipated the Town's pumping station when the condominium was established," Cove wrote. "However, there is nothing of record that indicates that the pumping station area was excluded from the condominium provisions."

On FEBRUARY 2, 1989, Attorney Cove wrote to Frank Robinson, at the Division of Water Pollution Control for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

"This office acts as counsel to the Millbury Sewer Commission," the letter read. "The Town contemplates taking a permanent easement for the location of a certain sewer pumping station located on Grafton Street in Millbury. The easement area is approximately 30,000 square feet. The Town does not anticipate making a taking of the fee interest in the real estate. As your office is the funding agency for this project, I would appreciate your written consent to the Town taking a permanent easement for purposes of a pumping station rather than taking ownership in the fee."

On FEBRUARY 28, 1989, Attorney Cove wrote to the SEWER COMMISSIONERS:

"As you know, I have discussed this project concerning the condominium association at length with Worcester County Abstract Company as well as with other title insurance companies. The conclusion is unanimous that a deed from the trustees of the condominium association will not convey an insurable fee interest to the Town covering the pumping station."

Cove then said the more advisable procedure would be as follows:

1. Obtain a deed from the trustees of the association as well as a release of damages as to the 30,000 square feet being taken;
2. Formulate an order of taking and record the order of taking relative to the 30,000 sq. feet;
3. Issue the order of taking against all of the condominium owners and their mortgagees.
4. Nominal damages will be awarded.
5. Obtain assents and/or releases from each condominium owner and/or mortgagee.

The following was submitted as an estimated cost to the Town of this project based upon 120 condominium units:

1. Cost appraisal: $500 - $1,000.00
2. Title and abstract work: $1,500 - $2,000.00
3. Recording charges: $300.00, more or less
4. Legal Fee: $3,000.00 - $3,500.00.

Cove also suggested that the Board consider waiving a betterment for the sewer hookup to the condominiums in exchange for a waiver of damages by the condominium trustees.

On MARCH 20, 1989, the SEWER COMMISSIONERS received a copy of a letter sent to Attorney Cove from Leo Andronico, Program Administrator of the Department of Environmental Quality Engineering (DEQE):

"In response to your request of February 2, 1989 concerning the Town taking a permanent easement or ownership in the fee for the construction of a wastewater pumping station located off Grafton Street, the Division approves of the Town taking a permanent easement for purposes of a pumping station.

"Please note that prior to Division authorization to the Town to advertise the project, the Grantee is required to assure that the applicant has ownership or the holding of such estate or interest in the site of the project, including necessary easements and rights-of-way, as the Director finds sufficient to assure undisturbed use and possession for the purpose of construction and operation for the estimated life of the project.

"Further, all leases and/or agreements must be approved by the Division before they are executed. An opinion from legal counsel is required for sites, rights-of-way and easements within the scope of the project. The opinion should describe the interest the Grantee has in the site, including information as to any easements and rights-of-way, and should certify that the estate or interest is legal and valid."

It was noted that the opinion should also include information as to whether or not:

- The Grantee has good and valid title to the entire site (excluding easements and rights-of-way) free and clear of any pre-existing mortgages, deeds, or trusts, liens, or other encumbrances which would affect the value or usefulness of the site for the purpose intended; and
- Any deeds or documents required to be recorded in order to protect the title of the owner and the interest of the Applicant have been duly recorded or filed for record wherever necessary.

On MARCH 29, 1989, the SEWER COMMISSIONERS notified the Conservation Commission that they were contemplating the purchase of a parcel of land on the northerly side of Grafton Street abutting the Millbury-Grafton town line "for the purpose of constructing a sewage pump station in the future to service the lower section of Grafton Street."

Conservation was asked to advise the commissioners whether they would have any opposition to a pumping station on this parcel and to report on any conditions that would be imposed.

On APRIL 24, 1989, CONSERVATION COMMISSION Chairman Richard Luikey asked that one of the sewerage commissioners accompany him to the site of the proposed pumping station.

(The next correspondence on the pumping station issue is dated June 14, 1990.

(NEXT WEEK: Let's take a break! The following week: code violations and septic system problems.)

KNOCK! KNOCK! WHO'S THERE? If you're in the throne room you hear one knock - no rush; two knocks - move it; three knocks, panic situation; four knocks, TOO LATE!

YOU'RE IN THE jailhouse now, or you will be if you don't watch your P's and 's. Yupp. A person who is arrested without a warrant is entitled to a "prompt" ruling by a judge to determine whether the arrest was lawful. The Supreme Court held, in a 5-4 vote, that suspects may generally be jailed in the hokey, slammer, what have you, for as long as "48 hours." Wow! Justice Scalia, a surprise dissenter argued that "hereafter a law abiding citizen wrongfully arrested may be compelled to await the grace of a Dickensian bureaucratic machine as it churns its cycle for up to two days...." Wow! Forty eight hours in the slammer!

CONTINUING ALONG...this character in San Francisco has filed a $5 million lawsuit against a cab driver who saw him commit a crime. It's alleged that the cabbie ran after the crook, caught him, pinned him against a building, breaking his leg in the capture. Lawyers say that cases like this are not impossible to win! EVERYBODY wants to get in on the act! Now we read that, in some states the police are starting to VIDEOTAPE daily police routines. Yupp! If the civilians can do it, why can't the men in blue? A plethora of cameras will be a-rollin' folks. So smile now when you're apprehended. You is on "Candid Police Camera!"

What's next? Ver-r-ry interesting, to say the least! Oh, yes, the other programs translate into German, Italian, and Spanish.

Sometimes Being Bald Pays Off

WORCESTER - Endangered species will be the focus of special programs, exhibits and activities at the New England Science Center (NESC) during the month of July.

In honor of the two bald eagles who reside in the NESC Aviary, the Science Center is offering half price admission during the entire month of July to anyone who is bald. This offer is not valid with any other discount.

The two bald eagles at the NESC have been in residence since 1983. Like their contemporaries in the wild, they are 30 to 40 inches long and have a wing span of six to eight feet. Each of the eagles, however, has an injured wing which prevents them from being released into the wild.

There will be zoo tours Monday through Friday at 1:30 p.m., highlighting endangered species that are part of the NESC collection. Many of the 26 different species in the zoo are considered endangered, protected or threatened in the wild. They include: bald eagles, polar bears, golden lion tamarinds, Goeldi's monkeys, mountain lions, Florida indigo snakes, wood turtles, Eastern box turtles and timber rattlesnakes.

From My Window on Farnsworth Court

By "Pastor Rae" Cameron

Like Victor Borge, I don't take requests unless they are asked for. The other day I happened to mention something about our beautifully polluted Blackstone River, and was asked to do an article about it. When I went to college in Providence, Rhode Island, we would come to the Blackstone River and would say to the young lady we were walking home that evening, "Oh, you have on your 'Evening in Providence.'" What a smell!

Now it is a little better, but it still has a long way to go. It has eaten away two of our local bridges and their repair seems to be in the distant future. What a mess when trucks have to come down thru the middle of our town.

We have also become quite careless on Route 122A, and when that bridge is fixed we will have to look out for approaching cars as we swing over onto Grafton Street.

National Geographic just had an article on what is being discovered in Eastern Europe now that bankrupt Communism is opening itself up to the rest of the world. Thanks to the philosophy of Dialectic Materialism, the natural resources of an agricultural society had to be ruined to make room for the next step in their dialectic which is industry; they haven't even begun on the next step, which will be technology. Technology will be necessary now to clean up the mess.

The founders of our nation were for the most part Deists. They believed in a Creator God who, after His creation, took more than one day to rest; He's still resting according to them. Now mankind is to rule and reign over what God created.

Well, there is a measure of truth to that, but the incarnation of our God in His Son, Jesus Christ, tells us that God still loves and cares for the world He created. There was a public service advertisement on television some time back that showed an Indian crying over the trash scattered across the land. I'm sure my God is crying too, and it is for us to clean up our act and preserve the wonderful world that He gave us and still cares a great deal about. Amen.

12 alternatives to lashing out at your kid.

The next time everyday pressures build up to the point where you feel like lashing out—STOP! And try any of these simple alternatives.

You'll feel better . . . and so will your child.

1. Take a deep breath. And another. Then remember you are the adult . . .
2. Close your eyes and imagine you're hearing what your child is about to hear.
3. Press your lips together and count to 10. Or better yet, to 20.
4. Put your child in a time-out chair. (Remember the rule: one time-out minute for each year of age.)
5. Put yourself in a time-out chair. Think about why you are angry: Is it your child, or is your child simply a convenient target for your anger?
6. Phone a friend.
7. If someone can watch the children, go outside and take a walk.
8. Take a hot bath or splash cold water on your face.
9. Hug a pillow.
10. Turn on some music. Maybe even sing along.
11. Pick up a pencil and write down as many helpful words as you can think of. Save the list.
12. Write for prevention information: National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse, Box 2866L, Chicago, IL 60690.

Stop using words that hurt. Start using words that help.

Getting high before takeoff.

If the thought of flying doesn't scare you, how about the thought of flying with a pilot who's addicted to cocaine?

According to a series of articles by a Pittsburgh newspaper, drug addiction among airline pilots is not at all uncommon.

The newspaper's series was the result of a phone tip from a frustrated doctor.

He told of a pilot who'd been rushed to the hospital near death from an overdose of cocaine.

A survey of the area's hospitals proved this was not an isolated incident.

Upon further investigation, reporters learned that screening flight personnel for drug use was forbidden. And that the FAA medical exams didn't mandate blood and urine analyses so drug use couldn't be detected.

They learned scores of pilots were receiving treatment for drug abuse.

The newspaper's story brought the problem to the attention of the public.

The public was outraged. And demanded immediate reform.

As a result, several reforms were initiated. Among them, the development of more extensive FAA medical exams.

Reforms that may never have occurred if it hadn't been for a couple of reporters pursuing a story.
